Len, Ken, and Jane work well, I know; and so do I.

If Pat is well, he can use the pen; or so I think.

Bud and Rob, I know, paid Paul a lot for the work.

Pat put the pen and pad on the top shelf, I think.

Be bright, be good, but be sure to work well, too.

Plan the work, and put the plan to work with zest.

Ben bought a ball and bat for Buck, Bob and Jack.

George will win a good prize if he can speak well.

Rip is big, but he is not too big for his new job.

Bug wrote a check, I think, but Burt paid in cash.

It will be well for bob to bid on the job at once.
